RLS PFAS Statement

The European Union (EU) and the United States (US) have addressed the use of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) or »forever chemicals« in manufacturing.

Based on upcoming regulations related to the use of PFAS outlined in the following documents:

- EU Proposal for restriction of PFAS under REACH Annex XVII Registry of restriction intentions until outcome - ECHA (europa.eu) and
- US TSCA PFAS reporting requirements and restriction of use by US Environmental Protection Agency https://www.epa.gov/pfas

RLS has conducted a survey on materials used in RLS products. We have focused on materials where the risk of PFAS use is moderate to high. Through gathered data, we are able to confirm that in the RLS catalog products PFAS materials are not intentionally used.

RLS is committed to managing the use of chemical substances per governmental regulations, industry standards, and customer-specific requirements to ensure that all aspects of our business have the least harmful effect on the environment. Following ECHA guidance and consistent with industry practices, RLS does not support analytical testing for SVHCs and other chemicals. Information is based on the knowledge of materials used in the finished products and information provided by suppliers.

Monitoring continues as new substances are added to the legislations updates and new products to our portfolio.

All findings linked to the either legislation requirements are therefore included in RLS REACH and TSCA declarations.
